

Independence Public Library Questions and Answers

What is the city contributing to the new library project?

The City of Independence is generously giving $700,000 to the new library project. These funds are coming from Community Betterment monies, otherwise known as the 1 cent sales tax. In addition to this, many of the city leaders have given personal contributions to support the library project.

Frank Brimmer, Mayor, and
Rob Robinson, Library Capital Campaign Chair

More Library Building Information: www.indylibrary.org